ALL TRACE IS LOST

Two Girls of Mechanicsburg Mysteriously Disappear.

Relatives Today Unable to Secure Any Trace of Them After a Long Search.

ONE MAY HAVE ELOPED

Two young girls of Mechanicsburg are mysteriously missing, and their parents do not know where to look for them or have the least idea where or why they went. This morning Mr. Mack Steele, an employee of the Paducah Furniture company, reported to Lieutenant Harlan at police headquarters that his daughter, Beanie Steele, aged 14, and Clemmie Reeder, aged 17, were missing and no trace of them could be found.

The Reeder girl is a daughter of Joe Reeder, a well known farmer of Bridge street, Mechanicsburg, while the Steele girl is a daughter of Mack Steele, who lives on the same street. Both girls have been employed at the knitting mill, and yesterday the Steele girl sent word home that she was to go to the other girl's house to spend the night.

Her absence from home accordingly occasioned no alarm, but this morning when the relatives of the Reeder girl began making inquiry of her and stopped at the Steele home, there was consternation all around when it was learned the girls did not stay at the Reeder home last night.

Mr. Steele began an investigation at once. He learned that neither had shown up at the factory, and as he had no knowledge of any love affair, nor of the girls having sweethearts, the theory that they eloped was not credited.

Officers who were at all trains and boats last night and this morning were questioned by Captain Bailey and Lieutenant Harlan, but none saw girls answering the description. For a time it was thought the girls were in the city somewhere, and search was instituted for them, but to no purpose.

This afternoon a telephone message from Mechanicsburg to The Sun stated that it was believed the girls took the train at 6:30 o'clock last night and went to St. Louis, where it is supposed the Steele girl is to meet and marry a young man of the Tyler section, Aa Coley, who is this afternoon also alleged to be missing. The other girl probably accompanied her if she went.

Relatives, according to the report, however, are not yet satisfied and will not abandon their search until they find where the girls are.

TO PREVENT STARVING.

CLUBS ARE NOW BEING FORMED IN ENGLAND.

London, May 30—Anti-starvation clubs are springing into existence in the crowded cities of Great Britain as the result of Mr. Chamberlain's proposal to embark on the project of inter-empire protection. The organizers of the movement assert that if the government determines to tax the people's food it will commit the moral equivalent of wholesale suicide. It is pointed out that large numbers of British workers are already so seriously underfed that they are in a state of semi-starvation.

The attention of the ministry is directed to the solemn testimony of Charles Booth and B. Seeboym M. Rowntree, the first authorities in the kingdom on the condition of the British poor, that more than 25 per cent of the population is unable to obtain sufficient food to maintain physical efficiency.

QUARTERLY COURT MONDAY.

County Judge R. T. Lightfoot will Monday morning convene quarterly court, with about forty cases on the docket. Nothing more than the mere calling of the docket will be done Monday.

Miss Odie Puryear will leave Monday for Paris, Ky., to visit Mrs. Ernest Stevens, formerly of Paducah.

WEEK'S NEWS IN THE BUSINESS WORLD

Clearings this week were $715,673 Same week last year 473,285 Increase 242,388

Business at the banks the past week has been very active. Clearings show a big increase over last year. Money is in good demand with deposits high. June is the last month of the first part of the year and the banks declare their semi-annual dividends June the 30. Earnings are good with all the local institutions and will show as big as any six months in their histories.

Retail business is very good, in fact has had a big increase since the carnival. Carnival week was a business killer, and usually business is dead immediately after one but this year has been an exception.

Wholesale business is active with good bookings of orders, and ordinary report general conditions above the average.

A number of local men who travel out of St. Louis have been in all week on account of the freight blockade at St. Louis caused by the freight handlers' strike. No shipments of any sort are being made and the wholesale people ordered all their men in. Chicago is threatened with the same thing.

The Lack Singletree Co. is building a large addition to their buildings on South Third street.

Real estate is active with the small trades again the biggest part of the trading. There are a number of big building projects on foot which have not yet assumed definite shape, however. If they are consummated Paducah will enjoy the biggest building boom of years.

WANTED ELSEWHERE

BUT THE NEGRO DECLARES HE IS NOT THE ONE SOUGHT.

Officers Dugan and Sencer this morning about 9:30 o'clock arrested a negro who suits the description of Sol Butcher, wanted in Weakly county, Tennessee, for badly cutting the sheriff, a short time ago. A deputy sheriff was here during the carnival in search of Butcher, but could not locate him. He left with the officers a description, which the suspect answers in every way, to scars, spots on his face and a deformed hand.

The prisoner, however, declared he was not Butcher, and was never in Weakly county, Tennessee. He said his name is Amrose McManis, and that he can prove it. Officers at Dresden, Tenn., were wired to come here and identify him. According to reports the sheriff was badly cut while trying to arrest the negro.

Later in the day a message was received from Dresden saying that the right negro had been arrested in Illinois, and the one in custody here was released.

Today's telegrams state that Butcher was caught near Carbondale, Ill., by the sheriff himself, Mr. Dodds, who has about recovered from his wounds. The prisoner refused to return without a requisition.

CAPT. HOWARD COMING.

THUS FAR HE HAS NOT SAID WHEN HE WILL BE HERE.

Captain Ed Howard, of Jeffersonville, will come down to Paducah shortly and himself open negotiations for settling the strike at the marine ways. This much is inferred from a letter Captain Mike Williams, superintendent of the ways, received last night, in which Captain Howard stated he would come as soon as possible, which may be early next week.

Mr. Joe B. Robinson will return from Fancy Farm today after a several day's visit to friends and relatives.

ARGUMENTS MADE.

JUDGE SANDERS RESERVED HIS DECISION IN CLERK TAX CASE.

The case against Mr. H. C. Rhodes, for refusing to pay a license based on the number of clerks he employs, was argued before Judge Sanders this morning in the police court, Judge W. A. Berry appearing for the merchants and Prosecuting Attorney Gilbert for the city. As already stated it is a test case to determine whether or not the city can exact a license such as demanded in the ordinance. The claim of the defense is that the law is unconstitutional and is the only one of the kind in the United States, so far as they are able to learn. The claim of the city is that it is perfectly legal and equitable, making the merchant who does a big business pay a license commensurate with the amount he does as shown by the number of clerks he employs just as a man who occupies a large house has to pay large rental, and a merchant with a small business a small license. Judge Sanders reserved his decision until next week.

The only two other cases before the court today were L. Churchill, $5 and costs for a breach of the ordinance, and George Colley and Will Wood, $10 and costs for a breach of the peace.

BOUGHT FINE HORSE.

ST. LOUIS MAN KNOWS WHERE TO PURCHASE GOOD ONES.

The Pines owners sold Mr. J. Johnson of the firm of Roberts, Johnson & Rand of St. Louis a mare sired by Black Aloyone yesterday for $600. Mr. Johnson bought the horse for a roadster. It is the third one he has bought in Paducah in the last two or three years, and his purchase was made this time after a trip to Lexington for the same purpose.

QUIET AT JACKSON.

Jackson, Ky., May 30—All is quiet here, and the number of soldiers has not been increased. Everything is in readiness for the Jett trial Monday.

AGAIN IN CONTROL

Local Capitalists Own Majority of the Street Car Stock.

The Deal Was Consummated a Few Days Ago—Many Improvements to Be Made.

OTHER BUSINESS DEALS

It became known today that the Paducah City Railway company has passed again into the control of Paducah and Bowling Green capitalists, who a few days ago bought sufficient stock to place them in charge.

When the company was reorganized a year ago Cincinnati men acquired an interest that placed them in control of the company. This week local capitalists consummated a deal by which they again come into control of the property.

It was stated at the local headquarters today that there will be no change in either the officers, management or policy of the company, and the system will be greatly improved this summer. Two hundred tons of steel rails have just been received, and will be placed down as rapidly as possible.

Mr. Henry F. Smith, of Bowling Green, has just closed a deal with Captain J. D. Render, of Morgantown, in which the latter transfers his interest in the steamboat property of the Aberdeen Coal and Mining company to Mr. Smith who is now in charge with headquarters here.

Captain Render owned a large interest in the river property of this company, the steamers Wilford and I. N. Hook, but sold out to go into another business. Mr. Smith has an office temporarily at the Fowler-Crumbaugh boatstore and is transacting his business at that place. He will remain in this city as Manager of the boats. The Hook is doing the work for the Pillsbury-Watkins Tie company, and the Wilford is running up the Cumberland river towing iron ore for the Kentucky Iron Co., of this city.

Mr. Smith, who was formerly warden at the Eddyville penitentiary, has many friends here who hope he will remain permanently.

The Leigh Fritt company, which owns the Houseman, at Fifth and Broadway under the Palmer, has rented the room vacated by Mr. O. E. Jennings and the St. Bernard Coal company just back of the Houseman and will convert both into one room and by the latest and best improvements make it one of the best and most up to date confectionaries in the state. One of the improvements will be a fine soda fountain.

Mr. Pete Burnett, the well known drummer of West Broadway, reports that he has sold his interest in the Dixon Springs and mining property over in Illinois, to St. Louis persons. The consideration is not known, but is reported to have been several thousand dollars.

Mr. William Whitehead becomes assistant manager of the Whitehead restaurant Monday. He sold out to Mr. James Vlahos several months ago and started a grocery in the West End, but has now sold out his grocery and purchased back a half interest in the restaurant.

COUNCIL MONDAY.

MEETING TO BE HELD—ELECTRIC LIGHT PLANT CASE.

The regular meeting of the city council takes place Monday night, with much business on hand. Mayor Yelzer stated today that he himself has to prefer all charges to the boards, and that the reported charges of the light committee against Superintendent Harry Wallace, of the light plant would be brought up in the council Monday night. They will be read to the aldermanic board first, and it sits as a court and hears evidence.

Mrs. D. R. Smith has returned to Pembroke, Ky., after a visit to her sister, Mrs. Nora Pierson of Adams street. Miss Linda Pierson, her niece, accompanied her.

Rain Again Prevents Games in K. I. T. League.

There Is a Prospect for a Change in the Present Schedule of Games.

JACKSON IS AGAIN BEATEN

Club.	Won.	Lost.	Pct.

Paducah.....	5	2	714
Owensboro.....	5	3	625
Clarksville.....	4	3	571
Cairo.....	4	5	444
Hopkinsville.....	3	4	428
Jackson.....	2	5	333
Vincennes.....	2	5	250

Rain in Clarksville again yesterday prevented a game between Clarksville and Paducah teams. This looks favorable to local sports who think that every game not played goes in favor of Paducah, whose team will have just that much time to be strengthened and worked up to its entire strength.

The present schedule is a very bad one and will be soon changed, before the 21st of June, it is expected. According to the schedule now in force Paducah will play in Jackson today, tomorrow and Monday, returning Tuesday and playing Vincennes here on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. After this series of three games is finished she will go to Hopkinsville for a series of three games and will then start out on a 150 game circuit. This will cause much interest in baseball to be lost here. It is thought and the management has set about to change the schedule.

Becker, the new third baseman, has not had a chance to show what he can do. The local fans are anxiously waiting the time when he will be initiated into the game. It is hoped that he is a good man, as this is the only position on the team that is weak, particularly.

Mr. W. C. Standeford, of the Atlantic saloon, will present a quart of old Cutler whiskey to the member of the Paducah team making the first home run, and a half gallon to the first knocking the ball over the fence.

NO GAME AT OWENSBORO.

A telegram from Owensboro announced no game on account of rain yesterday. This makes several games lost in the league on account of rain, which will have to be made up with "double-headers" later in the season.

HERBERT SPENCER MAY DIE.

LAST OF THE GREAT LITERARY MEN VERY ILL.

London, May 30—Herbert Spencer, the last of the great literary men who made the reign of Victoria notable, is seriously ill at his home near Manchester, and it is not believed that he will recover. He is 83 years old, and has been in feeble health for a long time. His present illness seems to be a general breaking down.

Herbert M. Spencer is perhaps the most comprehensive thinker of the century. He is the philosopher who in his writings has treated the whole universe from one standpoint, and who has brought together and collected almost the whole sum of human knowledge.

Means for exchanging information between shore stations and ships at sea will be provided, the system to be known as the naval patrol.

Reported There Will be a Big Raise Aug 1st.

Increase in Railroad Freight Rates Is Said to be the Cause of It.

DEALERS RUNNING THINGS

An advance of 25 cents a ton in all Kentucky coals is probable on August 1 says yesterday's Louisville Herald. A gentleman who is connected with the freight department of the Louisville and Nashville railroad said yesterday that all the better grades of Kentucky coal would probably sell for $4 per ton by January 1.

Several coal dealers were seen in regard to this report, and refused to discuss the matter.

The increase of 10 per cent in freight rates made by the Louisville and Nashville railroad is said to be the cause which will be given for the advance.

The coal dealers of the city have for some time past been anxious to advance the price of Kentucky coal to $3.75 per ton, but M. H. Smith, of the Louisville and Nashville railroad took a firm stand against this. Several delegations of coal dealers have visited him and asked him to join with them in making an advance. His answer has always been the same:

"Gentlemen, you can put the price of coal wherever you please. The Louisville and Nashville continues to sell coal at $3.25 per ton at retail."

Now, that the Louisville and Nashville is out of the coal business, the dealers can have their own way. Several conferences have been held between the leading dealers, and the plan arrived at is said to be to make an advance of 25 cents per ton at this time, and then shove the price up by degrees until it reaches $4, which the dealers say is a fair price. The price of Pittsburg coal will be correspondingly advanced.

Not only is this advance to be made on Eastern Kentucky coal, but also on that from the western part of the state.

Dealers in Paducah, however, say they know nothing about such a raise.

LOST A LEG.

FREIGHT WRECK ON THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL AT EAST CAIRO.

Fulton, May 30—An Illinois Central extra, south bound, engine 688, Conductor L. A. Wirtz, Engineer Charles Schmuck, ran into rear end of a Mobile and Ohio freight train at East Cairo. The engine was turned over on its side and rolled down the embankment. Four cars were wrecked. Charles Schmuck had one leg cut off about eight inches below the knee, received a bad cut in the left thigh and was bruised about the head. Fireman George Carr had his left leg bruised, but not seriously. The engineer claims that he did not see the Mobile and Ohio train in time to stop.

BLACKLEGS PLENTIFUL

ABOARD THE BIG OCEAN LINERS, ACCORDING TO REPORTS.

New York, May 30—The steamer Oceanic, here from Liverpool, had not left Queens-town before this warning was posted in the smoke room:

"Special notice: The attention of the managers has been called to the fact that certain individuals, believed to be professional gamblers, have recently been traveling to and fro in Atlantic steamships, and it is deemed right, in the interests of passengers, to bring it to their notice."

Two of the gamblers, one a tall, clean-shaven man in a pepper-and-salt frock coat, boarded the ship at Queens-town, and three others at Liverpool. They lost at dice and cards fabulous sums to each other. Among others whom the officers of the ship said they tried unsuccessfully to inveigle into their game was William A. Hazard, the polo player.

When the Oceanic reached her pier here the five card players rushed off the ship. They showed anxiety to get their baggage examined and leave. Two detectives shadowed them. They had been able to do no business on board. The leader has been on the ship's blacklist for more than two years.

A Skeleton Solves Mystery of Long Standing.

John Roark Disappeared Twelve Years Ago After Killing Mine Boss.

BONES JUST FOUND IN CAVE

Beaver Dam, Ky., May 30—The finding of a skeleton in an isolated cave near Echols, seven miles west of here, has solved a mystery and answered the question: "What became of John Roark?" which was asked hundreds of times years ago. While some boys were out hunting their attention was attracted by the loud barking of their dog in a cave. They crawled into a small hole to see what the animal had found and were horrified to find the skeleton of a human being. They told some men of what they had seen and they made an investigation. They found a gold ring on one of the bony fingers, on the inside of which was the name "John Roark." Close by was a rusty five caliber revolver, with three empty chambers.

One night, about twelve years ago, while a circus was showing in Central City, John Roark, a miner of Echols, and William Thompson, a weigh boss at Beaver mine, Muhlenberg county, became engaged in a difficulty and Roark shot Thompson twice, from the effect of which he died a few hours later. There was much indignation over the affair at the time and if the murderer had been caught he would in all probability have been mobbed. After a hot chase Roark succeeded in making his escape and was never seen or heard of afterwards. Whether or not Roark ended his own life will never be known. The skeleton was buried in the woods near where it was found.

Irregularities

CHICAGO, ILL., 5902 Indiana Avenue, Sept. 25, 1902.

Wine of Cardui is superior to anything I have ever tried for irregularities. Three years ago I noticed that I became irregular but I paid little attention to it. Gradually the trouble became serious and affected my general health. The flow became scanty and very painful and I sought the doctor's aid. I soon found, however, that his prescriptions did not have the desired effect and when a friend recommended Wine of Cardui I decided to try it and procured a bottle. It helped me at once and I felt greatly encouraged when I noticed the change for the better. At my next menstrual period the pain was less and the flow better and within four months I was perfectly well, regular and without pain.

This is over a year ago and I have not suffered any pains or trouble since. Accept my sincere thanks for your efficient remedy.

Miss Adelaide Adams

Because Wine of Cardui cures women so simply, so quickly and so effectively it is the favorite medicine of women today. This medicine brings women health and freedom from sickness by the most simple process—Nature's own way.

While physicians examine and operate, Wine of Cardui works a cure without the humiliating publicity of an operation or the danger of the use of a knife.

Wine of Cardui strikes at the root of female trouble. It regulates the menstrual flow, making the function regular and healthy, an aid to health instead of a menace. A profuse flow weakens the blood and suppresses poisons. Wine of Cardui, by regulating the flow, gives life and strength to all the generative organs. Bearing down pains disappear and ovarian pains and weakness give way to health.

If you are suffering female weakness you should look after your case at once. All the organs are in sympathy and you cannot tell what a simple case of irregularity will run into if you let it alone.

The Week In Society.

EDGED TOOLS.

Two skeptical children of the world, each with a heart engraven o'er with broken love knots, quaintly cried, Of hot flirtations held before; Yet, somehow, either seemed to find, This time, a something more akin To that young, natural love—the kind Which comes but once, and breaks us in.

—Edmund Clarence Stedman.

A MAN'S IDEAL WOMAN.

The ideal woman is, perhaps, an overworked theme, but a recent vigorous delineation of her by Frankfort Moore in a "Book of Beauty" is interesting not only as a 20th century view-point, but as showing how woman is seeking a sphere of action larger than that "bounded by the kitchen on one side and the store cupboard on the other," has not abused man's trust in her, and that she still rules as royally in her kingdom of hearts today as in the 18th century when she "never criticized the other sex, nor claimed equality with them, but cheerfully acquiesced in the theory of feminine inferiority." She is thus summed up by a man of today in a clever touch-and-go sort of a way that shows he quite realizes her little idiosyncrasies and is amused thereby:

"The ideal woman is a woman without an ideal. She is easy to live with. She is worth living for." She is worth dying for. She is the light in the charcoal drawing of humanity—man being the charcoal. She is the skylight in the edifice of the human life. She has no history. She has no story. She is the rhythm which transforms the prose of life into poetry. She wears a reasonable hat at matinees. She is too clever to talk of woman's rights; she takes them. She wears frocks that match her hair; she does not dye her hair to match her frocks. . . . She is not such a fool as to fancy that anyone is ever convinced by argument. She does not reason. She loves. She believes that the first woman was a hieroglyphic inscription, and that every woman is but a "squeeze" of Eve. She knows that the key to the inscription is love."

WEDDING ANNOUNCED.

The wedding bands of Miss Agnes Mohan of the city and Mr. William Kay Richardson of Chicago, will be published tomorrow morning at high mass at the St. Francis de Sales Catholic church by the Rev. Father H. W. Jansen.

Miss Mohan is a talented and attractive young lady and has a host of friends in Paducah where she has always lived. She is a daughter of the late Mr. Charles Mohan and a sister of Mrs. J. J. Dorian. She belongs to a gifted family, the sisters all being prominent in a musical and literary way.

Mr. Richardson is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Richardson of this city, and is a young man of fine business qualifications and sterling traits of character. He is pleasant socially and is popular with a large circle of friends. He has lived in Chicago for the past several years, going there

The announcement of the marriage will come as no surprise to the intimate friends of the couple, as it has been expected for some time. They will have a host of congratulations here, however. The wedding will take place on June 16.

CHICAGO WEDDING OF INTEREST HERE.

Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Joplin Scofield of Chicago, have announced the approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Cora Scofield to Mr. Lynn Goodlett Hand, also of Chicago. The wedding will take place on Monday evening, June 22, at 7 o'clock at the Bryn Mawr club house. There will be six bridesmaids, and Mr. Charles Norton Hand of this city will be the best man. The invitations are not yet out.

The wedding is of especial interest here as Mr. Hand is a Paducah boy, though he has made Chicago his home for some years. He is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hand of West Broadway, and is a rising young railroad man. He is the car and wheel inspector of the I. O. railroad and holds a responsible position for so young a man. He is bright and popular socially.

Miss Scofield is the daughter of the attorney for the Union Traction company and the O. B. and Q. railroad, and is very attractive and popular.

The wedding will be a well social event, and relatives and friends of Mr. Hand here will attend.

MRS. YONTS' CARD PARTY.

Mrs. Morton K. Yonts gave an attractive card party on Friday afternoon at her home on West Broadway. A pretty and novel feature was the tally cards which were small Japanese paper fans. Covers were laid for twelve and the table was beautifully decorated with candelabra and flowers, the color tone being pink and white. The place cards were clever verses appropriate to each guest. The dinner was delightfully served in six courses. The rain prevented an evening at the park as had been planned, but an enjoyable time was spent at the pleasant Hicks' home. The party was a complete surprise to Mr. Hicks in whose honor it was given.

A WEEK OF LIGHT OPERA.

The opening of light opera at the park Casino this week, has been the chief attraction and dissipation of society. Light opera and summer weather seem especially suited, heavier plays can be done along with one's winter clothes, but it is the light and airy things that especially appeal in summer weather to the brain as well as the body. Again the "Mikado" has been holding popular court and has proved that some charms are perennial. Miss Alma Hays' appearance in "The Chimes of Normandy" added much to the interest of their popular opera, and was greeted by a large audience.

A PLEASANT OCCASION.

DAILY THOUGHT.

The only real, lasting pleasure in life comes from doing something worth while, and doing it as well as you know how.—Snodgrass.

NOT TOO LATE TO MEND.

The board of education appears to have committed a grievous error. If it is desirous of making amends it should at once rescind the action by which it was decided to retire efficient and deserving teachers, who are bound, if present intentions are carried out, to suffer financially and professionally. Public sentiment is against importing teachers of which comparatively nothing is known to supplant teachers who have been tried and found equal to every demand. There are good teachers at home. Parents of children who attend school perhaps have better opportunity to judge of the efficiency of the teachers to whom they send their children than school trustees, and the fact that during their years of faithful service in the schools these teachers have given them satisfaction ought to be sufficient justification for keeping them. Most assuredly the people, whose interests the board was elected to serve, will be satisfied if the teachers are retained, and will not be if they are dropped in such a manner, and at a time when it will be difficult, if not impossible, to obtain other positions, and at a period in their careers when such a blow to their professional reputations will be severest. The action heretofore taken by the board in this matter is not binding. No matter what prompted it, now that it is evident how unjust it is considered by the public the board can easily revoke it and thus settle the whole thing, while the gentlemen from a distance selected to fill the places will doubtless appreciate the situation and feel no resentment. They may suffer inconvenience and even financial loss, but no more so than the home teachers selected to be released. We owe more to the latter than to the former. They have lived and labored among us, have dedicated their lives to the education of the young, and certainly deserve better treatment. It is never too late to mend. The board of education meets Tuesday night, and apparently, in the opinion of at least a large majority, would do its duty by rectifying in whatever manner it deems proper what is generally believed to be a serious mistake.

TRIBUTE TO ROOSEVELT.

The Democratic papers that have been exulting over the supposition that Senator Hanna was fighting President Roosevelt in the Ohio convention should read this, which Senator Hanna offered in that same Ohio convention as a tribute to the president: "I have nothing but commendation for the record of the president, who, from that awful day in Buffalo, when in the presence of his cabinet, he registered a vow and called as witnesses the whole American people that it would be his duty as well as his pleasure to carry out the policies of William McKinley."

The county health authorities have won their first victory in circuit court over smallpox claims. The county has been in the habit of making the city pay a great part of the smallpox expenses, and trying to beat those to whom she is indebted out of the remainder. The county now owes the city hundreds of dollars. It is claimed, as a fair share of smallpox expenses, but fiscal court will not allow them. Men who do the disagreeable and oftentimes dangerous work of caring for smallpox patients, vaccinating the exposed or guarding those in danger of spreading the disease, send in their claims only to see them shaved down or refused outright. Some of the claims are pretty steep. It is true, but the work is very objectionable, and few can or want to do it. One man was appointed guard by the county health authorities some time ago and his claim of $150 was refused by fiscal court. First he was asked to take $100, and when he refused his claim was thrown out. He brought suit and the county claimed the health authorities had no legal power to appoint him a guard and that he was not entitled to the pay. The court decided differently and the entire claim of $150 was allowed. This is a victory for the county health authorities, and also shows what will be done to fiscal court on some of the other claims it has pigeonholed or refused. The county should learn to pay its honest debts. The city learned it when she tried to repudiate $100,000 worth of bonds a few years ago.

The superstitions should learn a valuable lesson from the recent occurrences at Pine Bluff, Ark. An ignorant, demented negro predicted that the city would be destroyed on a certain date, and there were between 6,000 and 8,000 people foolish enough to believe her. The superstitions left in droves until many industries were closed on account of the lack of labor. Business came to a standstill and a reign of fear and stagnation resulted. Yesterday was the day for the destruction of the city, and, as any sensible person might have expected, Pine Bluff stands intact today. The people are rushing back, but the affair serves to show what the ravings of a deranged mind may cause, even in a civilized community.

The state militia will have to do better than that. Killing one lone cow out of "several hundred shots" as the dispatches have it, indicates that they need target practice. One is constrained to believe that the bold, bad people of Jackson didn't do much shooting at the little rooks the other night, or there would have been better material for an inquest than a bovine. When they shoot they usually necessitate letters of condolence, flowers and slow music.

Some of the Democrats, after abusing Chairman Allie Young for several months, have changed their tactics and are now complimenting him by accusing him of supporting men with Republican proclivities.

WON HIS CLAIM.

COUNTY LOSES FIRST OF THE SMALLPOX CLAIMS PROSECUTED.

A judgment was today rendered in circuit court in favor of Mr. James McKinney, formerly city hospital keeper, against McCracken county fiscal court, for $150. When there was a smallpox epidemic at Tyler a few months ago, the county health authorities employed Mr. McKinney as a guard. He put in his claim for $150 when fiscal court met and was offered $100. He declined to make any reduction and the claim was then refused.

He brought suit, and the county claimed, among other things, that the county health authorities had no power to appoint Mr. McKinney guard, and he accordingly had no legal claim against the county for services.

The court held that the county health board did have authority to make the appointment, that the claim was just, and allowed the whole amount, $150, and orders fiscal court to pay the bill. The judgment will be filed Monday.

The motion for a new trial in the case against Dr. Elmer H. Davis of the county, the young doctor who was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary during the last term of circuit court for forgery, was again continued this morning and set for next Friday.

A judgment for sale was filed in the case of F. W. Katterjohn against Fannie Hinson.

Bettie Deminick and others have filed a suit against Birdie Deminick and others to secure the sale of property for division.

CIVIC LEAGUE

Meeting Held Last Night and Much Discussion Resulted.

The Membership Will at Once Be Increased to Five Hundred Members.

A meeting was held last night in the lecture room of the Broadway Methodist church by 50 or more gentlemen who desire to improve civil government and the moral condition of Paducah. Rev. G. W. Perryman presided, and present were many prominent citizens and workers in the cause. Among them were Dr. J. D. Smith, Captain J. R. Puryear, Mr. O. W. Morrison, Mr. W. J. Hills, Captain G. W. Ormibagh, Messrs. Stuart Hanna, George O. Wallace, R. J. Settle, Wm. Flowers, J. V. Powell and Charles Q. C. Leigh.

A resolution was adopted to increase the membership of the league to 500 and another meeting is called for next Friday night.

The addresses were all in favor of improving the moral tone of our government, and while Sunday baseball was not extensively discussed, it was mentioned and opposed. The baseball men, it is claimed, did not have any representation present as they say the question was settled in advance by those who were in charge of the meeting, and there was no use in taking up with them a matter in which a decision had already been rendered.

Sunday performances at theaters were also opposed, but no definite outline was made as to the course that will be pursued. It is probable this will come later.

FORESAW FAR AHEAD

OLD-TIME WRITERS ANTICIPATED RECENT INVENTIONS.

Rabelais Told of Frozen Words That Traveled Out, and of Roads That Traveled—Frier Rogar Bacon's Predictions of Long Ago.

Of Rabelais' story concerning the "frozen words" which started Pantagruel and his happy crew on the voyage to the oracle of the Holy Bottle the world has long been familiar. Students of the great humorist maintain that the narrative of the "frozen words" must be taken to imply that their author had something akin to a prophetic vision of the modern phonograph.

In another direction it now appears that Rabelais played the seer and still nearer approached to a recent invention of unique creation. This relates to the "moving platform," a leading attraction at the Paris exhibition in 1900, by which a passenger stepped on to a traveling road or path, and was carried to his destination without any further effort.

If some features of this may be traced, by anticipation, to the mind of the old sage who defied rivers as "roads that travel," the real precedent is discoverable in the fifth book of Rabelais' series of masterpieces. Rabelais, in the exuberance of his imagination concerning the tale of Odes, where the roads travel of themselves, depicts Pantagruel and his gray mariners voyaging to the oracle of the Divine Bottelle, on the island of Odes. The term "odes," in spite of its associations, has nothing to do with poetry.

On this pleasant tale, where the roads travel of themselves, and thus (according to Aristotle's definition) must be classed as animals of locomotion, the traveler had simply to inquire his way of the road which was going to his destination, to get upon it, and so he carried, without further trouble, to the place he desired, just as happens to those who take passage from Lyons down the Rhone to Avignon and Arles.

Who forgets that Mark Twain, some years back, amusingly propounded a similar fancy when he took passage (by slow freight) on a Swiss glacier?

At the present hour the traveling road or path is under experiment in the suburbs of Paris, and is possibly destined some day to supersede omnibuses and tramways.

In the light of these facts it seems hard that Frier Rogar Bacon, the student of science before the scientific period, who predicted that one day carriages would move without horses, and ships cross the ocean without sails, should be laughed to scorn as an addle-brained monk, whom much learning had made mad.—Cassier's Magazine.

THE TRIUMPHS OF PE-RU-NA INCREASE.

Thousands of Chronic Ailments of Women Cured Every Month—Disguised Internal Catarrh the Enemy of Women—Pe-ru-na the Only Internal Systemic Catarrh Remedy Yet Devised—Prominent Cases in Illustration.

Nervous Depression.

Summer months are peculiarly the months of nervous diseases, especially nervous prostration and other depressed states of the nervous system. People who are not at all inclined to be nervous or suffer from weak nerves find this time especially trying. Sultry heat and electrical disturbances of the atmosphere are probably the cause of this.

Invalids need to be particularly careful to fortify the nervous system by the use of Peruna.

Miss Helen Roloff, Kankakee, Ill., writes: "Several times during the past two years or more my system has been greatly affected by a tonic, and at those times Peruna has been of great help in building up the system, restoring my appetite and securing peaceful sleep. I know of a great number of women who are using it for the troubles peculiar to the sex, and with the best results."—Helen Roloff.

MISS LOUISE BERTSEL.

Miss Louise Bertsel, 191 Second street, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "My health was excellent until about six months ago, when I seemed to have a collapse from overindulgence in social and the doctor ordered an entire change of scene and climate. As this was an absolute impossibility at the time, I had to try and regain my health in another way and was induced by a friend, who gave Peruna such a good recommendation, to try Peruna. I can tell you the condition of my nerves when I began to use it. The least noise irritated me, and I felt that life was not worth living, but Peruna soon changed me into a well woman, and now I do not know I have nerves."—Louise Bertsel.

"A newspaper contributor was lately admitted into the extensive office of Dr. Hartman, who treats catarrh patients by the thousand. Among the busy swarm of assistant doctors, clerks, stenographers and bookkeepers, Dr. Hartman stopped long enough to say a few words.

"A large number of female patients visit me every year, but the number who are entered on my books as regular patients and are treated by correspondence is very much larger. Hundreds of letters are received and answered from every day. A yet greater multitude take my catarrh remedy, Peruna, and are cured, of whom I never hear. Some of this latter class write me years after their cure.

"I never allow a name published except by the written consent of the patient. We make no charge at any time. The medicine only is obtained by each patient at her own drug store. Those desiring to become regular patients have only to send address, duration of disease and treatment previously received, and directions for the first month's treatment will be sent at once."

Over half the women have catarrh in some form or another. And yet, probably not a tenth of the women know that their disease is catarrh. To distinguish catarrh of various organs it has been named very differently.

One woman has dyspepsia, another bronchitis, another "Bright's disease," another liver complaint, another consumption, another female complaint. These women would be very much surprised to hear that they are all suffering with chronic catarrh. But it is so, nevertheless.

Each one of these troubles and a great many more are simply catarrh—that is, chronic inflammation of the mucous lining, of which organs are affected. Any internal remedy that will cure catarrh in one location will cure it in any other location. This is why Peruna has become so justly famous in the cure of female diseases. It cures catarrh wherever located. Its cures remain. Peruna does not palliate—it cures.

"Health and Beauty," sent free by The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Miss Jennie Finley, 79 Madison Street, Memphis, Tenn., a popular young society lady of that place, writes: "Three years ago I had very poor health, and while I was only sick about occasionally, I was unable to enjoy life, and lacked vitality and strength. I was an easy subject to cold and malaria. Four bottles of Peruna changed my entire physical condition. My head stopped aching, my strength returned, and the poison was driven out of my blood. I felt like a new woman once more. It is a truly great medicine and well worthy the good things its friends say about it, and it will always have my indorsement."—Jennie Finley.

MISS LUCY M. RILEY.

Theatrical Notes.

Last night a fair sized audience was present to hear the second presentation of the tuncful opera "Chimes of Normandy," despite the inclement weather. This opera is one of the best of the lighter class and is well presented by the Boston Ideal Co. The leads are all far above the average and the chorus shows great strength. Tonight the same opera will again be sung, matinee also, and on Sunday night the "Chimes of Normandy" will be heard for the last time unless presented by special request. On Monday night Said Pasha will be presented for a series of three nights. The company has worked up well in this place and will give a most creditable presentation.

Mr. Montjoy Walker, the leading comedian, has not had a good chance to show his powers of comedy yet but will give the public a sample next week. He is an excellent comedian, having played for more than 20 years with some of the best companies. He appears as "Gaspard," the miser, in the Normandy production.

Mr. Ed McCommish, the tenor, is becoming quite popular with the musical loving public here. His voice is excellent and last night he was anointed several times.

Miss Alma Hays, the local singer, is singing in the chorus and also has a speaking part. She has agreed to sing with the Boston Ideal Co. during this engagement but has not signed permanently.

Miss Flora May Clark was out today for the first time since her long illness. She is still quite weak, but is recuperating rapidly.

The concert by Deal's band tomorrow afternoon at Wallace park will be free, and the usual large Sunday crowd is expected.

GUNS FROM GERMANY.

OUR WAR DEPARTMENT GETS A LARGE ORDER FILLED.

Washington, May 30—Some time ago the war department ordered 50 three-inch field guns of the new design and type to be manufactured in Germany. These guns are now practically completed, and Captain John W. Joyes of the ordnance department has been designated to receive them at Dusseldorf, Germany. A quantity of ammunition will be shipped at the same time.

The reason stated for ordering these field guns from Germany's manufacturer was that the manufacturers in this country were too busy to fill the orders of the war department, only one out of 27 firms responding to a circular asking proposals, and this one wanting two years, within which to make deliveries, against seven months by the German firm. The arsenal of the United States also were crowded with work.

WEATHER AND RAINFALL.

Today being Decoration day no weather predictions were received but Mr. William Bornemann, the local weather observer, states that tonight and tomorrow will be fair. The rainfall since Thursday has been 1.55 inches.

Nothing Unusual.

Dr. de Sarak, a few weeks ago, lectured in Washington on "Occult Science." After his address he gave a demonstration of his power when,
by concentrating his mind on it, he smashed into smithereens a bottle full of water. The incident caused comment and was discussed by several senators gathered to the cloak room of the capitol.

"Imagine breaking a bottle by thinking of it," said one of the statesmen in amazement.

"That's nothing," said Senator Spooner, blandly, "I've known men to think of a bottle and break a dollar."

AN HONEST SKEPTIC

AND WHERE HE LANDED.

An honest skeptic will learn things that a prejudiced and ignorant person misses. There have been many skeptics of the great rebuilding value of the pure food Grape Nuts simply because they did not understand the scientific principle upon which it is based.

A Cincinnati man prepared to die and then got well and strong in spite of his convictions. He says: "I have always regarded your food as only another catch penny to fool the public but I am now forced through simple justice to admit that it is all you claim."

"I suffered for years from indigestion and had 'set my house in order' to die. Then I took up the study of the elementary table, bought a set of chemical devices to analyze the different foods and set to work to intelligently study the food question.

"I selected and ate those vegetables and meats in which I found the most nutriment and which were supposed to be the most easily digested but I continued to waste away and my stomach grew to be a veritable hell; sour erectations came up in my mouth taking my breath away for such a long while that I thought many times my end had come. I would fall in a faint and remain unconscious for some time and when revived would find great dark spots obscuring my vision to such an extent that it seemed to be almost night in my room.

"My stomach grew so weak that I could not digest even well boiled rice.
While lying in bed, badly discouraged and more willing to die than live, a voice seemed to come to me 'Why don't you give up your prejudice and try Grape Nuts.' I thought about it every little while during the day and late in the evening sent out for some and ate a little, expecting it would hurt me and cause all the terrible trouble over again, but an hour passed and everything was right so I took another little meal and waited, I felt better and the old sick feeling quit. So about 9 o'clock I took a pretty good meal of Grape Nuts and went to bed feeling good. I laid awake some time fearing my poor weak and scalded stomach would suffer but strange to say I dropped off to sleep and slept sound and peaceful and enjoyed the most glorious night's rest I had for several years.

"I go heavy on Grape Nuts now and I have gained 10 pounds in the last five weeks; have sound refreshing sleep, no sour eructations of the stomach, no dark blind spots and my nerves are as steady as can be. I am truly myself again and all due to having at last found the proper food."

Platinum.

Platinum rarely occurs in nuggets, though once in a while a lump of it is found; the biggest on record, about the size of a tumbler, being now preserved in the Dresden museum. Some time ago John M. Davidson of Rochester, N. Y., found the metal in two micrometers—an interesting discovery, inasmuch as it proved that platinum exists in other worlds than ours.

SUIT FOR LIBEL.

WM. SHEARER ASKS $5,000 DAMAGES FROM DR. J. W. PENDLEY.

Wm. Shearer, better known as Will Orr, has filed through Attorneys Cross and Houser a suit for $5,000 damages against County Physician J. W. Pendley for alleged libel. It seems Dr. Pendley resides near the plaintiff, and recently, according to the petition, wrote Shearer's father-in-law, Mr. J. P. Coffey, of Tucson, Ariz., that Mrs. Shearer, Mr. Coffey's daughter, was receiving the most villainous treatment at the hands of her husband. The letter was sent to Mrs. Shearer, who in turn gave it to her husband, who denies the statements made and sues Dr. Pendley for damages. He is a well known bartender who was recently fined in police court for trouble he had at home, and is not Mr. Wm. Orr, the bartender at Bohannon's.

CURES WHEN DOCTORS FAIL.

Mrs. Frank Chlason, Patterson, La., writes June 8, 1901: "I had malarial fever in very bad form, was under treatment by doctors, but as soon as I stopped taking their medicine the fever would return. I used a sample bottle of Herbine, found it helped me. Then bought two bottles, which completely cured me. I feel grateful to you for furnishing such a splendid medicine, and can honestly recommend it to those suffering from malarial, as it will surely cure them." SIXTEEN YEARS A CITIZEN.

MR. G. Z. TANSEL DIES FROM LIVER TROUBLE.

Mr. G. Z. Tansel, a well known Illinois Central blacksmith, died last night at 11 o'clock at his home 925 South 11th street from liver trouble, and an operation performed with a hope of saving his life. He came here from Tennessee sixteen years ago and was a man highly respected by all who knew him. He was 56 years old and leaves a wife and two daughters, the latter Mesdames Charles Bolin and Frank Biddle. He was a member of the Odd Fellows.

WORLD-WIDE REPUTATION.

White's Cream Vermifuge has achieved a world-wide reputation as being the best of all worm destroyers, and for its tonic influence on weak and unthrifty children, as it neutralizes the acidity or sourness of the stomach, improves their digestion and assimilation of food, strengthens their nervous system and restores them to the health, vigor and elasticity of spirits natural to childhood. 25c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.'s.

SOUND VIEWS.

HON. JOHN D. LONG PREFERS HEALTH TO RICHES.

Rockland, Mass., May 30—"I am glad I am not a rich man. I would not exchange my freedom, home life and content of heart for the wealth of a Morgan or a Carnegie," said John D. Long, former secretary of the navy, at the Rockland Commercial club banquet, at which he was the guest of honor.

In speaking of socialism Mr. Long said there has been respect for the rights of property in the past and there always would be. If the reward is taken away there will be no incentive to work.

"Our mothers and grandmothers worked like slaves," he continued, "but the life of the people of today is rendered much easier by the accumulation of wealth. We live better and have more advantages than they had."

"We are living in an age of socialism, as I understand socialism. I fear no theories, no fanatics and no millionaires, but I do believe in and trust in the judgment of good everyday people of this country to work these problems. Wealth is all right, but it is not to be considered for a moment with a good mind, good health and a clear conscience. The advances that are being made will work for the benefit of mankind."

SPRING AILMENTS.

There is an aching and tired feeling; the liver, bowels and kidneys become sluggish and inactive, the digestion impaired, with little or no appetite, no ambition for anything, and a feeling that the whole body and mind needs toning up. The trouble is that during winter there has been an accumulation of waste matter in the system. Herbine will remove it, secure to the secretions a right exit, and by its tonic effect fully restore the wasted tissues and give strength in place of weakness. 50c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

WAS A MISER.

Monst Vernon, N. Y., May 30—Lawyers who have just completed an adjustment of the estate of Rev. Joseph Albinger, pastor of the Roman Catholic church of Our Lady of Victory, who died five years ago, found that Father Albinger, who was called a miser and went about the street in rags, left $57,000. Of this amount $30,000 in gold was in safe deposit vaults in New York. The remainder was invested in real estate.

FOR THOSE WHO

LIVE ON FARMS.

Dr. Bergin, Pana, Ill., writes: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment; always recommend it to my friends, as I am confident there is no better made. It is a dandy for burns." Those who live on farms are especially liable to many accidental cuts, burns and bruises, which heal rapidly when Ballard's Snow Liniment is applied. It should always be kept in the house for cases of emergency. 25c, 50c and $1 at DuBois, Kolb & Co.'s.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

Late Mohonk, N. Y., May 30—Yesterday's session of the conference on international arbitration was opened with an address by Dr. Lyman Abbott of New York, who declared that arbitration was not the solvent of all difficulties. The right of the free man to labor was one of the things that could not be arbitrated, he asserted, and the Monroe Doctrine was another.

GRAUSTARK

By GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON

Copyright, 1901, by Herbert S. Stone

"And yours? From what you say it must be above the clouds—in heaven."

"We are farthest from the clouds, for we live in the green valley, shaded by the white topped mountains. We may, in Edelweiss, have what climate we will. Doctors do not send us on long journeys for our health. They tell us to move up or down the mountain. We have balmy spring, glorious summer, refreshing autumn and chilly winter, just as we like."

"Hend! I think you must be pretty well toward the south. You could not have July in January if you were far north."

"True; yet we have January in July. Study your map. We are discernible to the naked eye," she said, half ironically.

"I care not if there are but three inhabitants of Graustark, all told, it is certainly worthy of a position on any map," said Lorry gallantly, and his listeners applauded with patriotic appreciation. "By the way, Mr. Guggenlocker, you say the conductor asked you for my name, and you did not know it. May I ask how you learned it later on?" His curiosity got the better of him, and his courage was increased by the champagne the old gentleman had ordered.

"I did not know your name until my niece told it to me after your arrival in the carriage," said Uncle Caspar.

"I don't remember giving it to Miss Guggenlocker at any time," said Lorry.

"You were not my informant," she said demurely.

"Surely you did not guess it."

"Oh, no, indeed. I am no mind reader."

"My own name was the last thing you could have read in my mind in that event, for I have not thought of it in three days."

She was sitting with her elbows on the table, her chin in her hands, a dreamy look in her blue eyes.

"You say you obtained that coin from the porter on the Denver train?"

"Within two hours after I got aboard."

"Well, that coin purchased your name for me," she said calmly, candidly. He gasped.

"You—you don't mean that you"—he stammered.

"You see, Mr. Lorry, I wanted to know the name of a man who came nearest my ideal of what an American should be. As soon as I saw you I knew that you were the American as I had grown to know him through the books—a big, strong, bold and comely. That is why I bought your name of the porter. I shall always say that I know the name of an ideal American—Grenfall Lorry."

Her frank statement staggered him almost beyond the power of recovery.

"I—I am honored," he at last managed to say, his eyes gleaming with embarrassment. "I trust you have not found your first judgment a fancy one. He felt very foolish after this flat remark.

"Well, that coin purchased your name for me."

"I have remembered your name," she said graciously. His heart swelled.

"There are a great many better Americans than I," he said. "You forget our president and our statesmen."

"I thought they were mere politicians."

Grenfall Lorry, idealized, retired to his berth that night, his head whirling with the emotions inspired by this strange, beautiful woman. How lovely, how charming, how naive, how queenly, how indifferent, how warm, how cold—how everything that puzzled him was a part of her. His last waking thought was: "Guggenlocker! An angel with a name like that!"

CHAPTER IV.

THE INVITATION EXTENDED.

THEY were called by the porter early the next morning. The train was pulling into Washington five hours late. Grenfall wondered as he dressed whether fortune would permit him to see much of her during his brief day in the capital. After the train had come to a standstill he could hear the rustle of her garments in the next compartment. Then he heard her sweep into the passage, greet her uncle and aunt, utter a few commands to the maid, and, while he was adjusting his collar and necktie, pass from the car. No man ever made quicker time in dressing than did Lorry.

"She'll get away, and that 'll be the end of it," he growled, seizing his traps and rushing from the train two minutes after her departure. The porter attempted to relieve him of his bags on the platform, but he brushed him aside and was off toward the station.

"Nice time for you to call a man, you idiot," was his parting shot for the porter, forgetting of course that the foreigners had been called at the same time. With eyes intent on the crowd ahead, he plunged along, seeing nobody in his disappointed flight. "I'll never forgive myself if I miss her," he was wallowing to himself. She was not to be seen in the waiting rooms, so he rushed to the sidewalk.

"Baggage transferred?"

"Cab, sir."

"Go to the devil—yes, here! Take those traps and checks and rush my stuff to—W—avenue. Trunks just in on R. and O.," he cried, tossing his burdens to a transfer man and giving him the checks so quickly that the fellow's sleepy eyes opened wider than they had been for a month. Relieved of his impediments, he returned to the station.

"Good morning, Mr. Lorry. Are you in too much of a hurry to see your friends?" cried a clear, musical voice, and he stopped as if shot. The anxious frown flew from his brow and was succeeded instantaneously by a glad smile. He wheeled and beheld her, with Aunt Yvonne, standing near the main entrance to the station. "Why, good morning," he exclaimed, extending his hand gladly. To his amazement she drew herself up haughtily and ignored the proffered hand. Only a brief second did this strange and uncalled-for hauteur obtain. A bright smile swept over her face, and her repentant fingers sought his timidly, even awkwardly. Something told him that she was not accustomed to handshaking; that some something impelled him to bend low and touch the gloved fingers with his lips. He straightened, with face flushed, half fearful lest his act had been observed by curious loungers, and he had taken a liberty in a public place which could not be condoned. But she smiled serenely, approvingly. There was not the faintest sign of embarrassment or confusion in the lovely face. Any other girl in the world, he thought, would have jerked her hand away and giggled furiously. Aunt Yvonne inclined her head slightly, but did not proffer her hand. He wisely refrained from extending his own. "I thought you had left the station," he said.

"We are waiting for Uncle Caspar, who is giving Hendrick instructions. Hendrick, you know, is to go on to New York with our boxes. He will have them aboard ship when we arrive there. All that we have with us is hand baggage. We leave Washington tonight."

"I had hoped you might stay over for a few days."

"It is urgent business that compels us to leave so hastily, Mr. Lorry. Or all the cities in the world, I have most desired to see the capital of your country. Perhaps I may return some day. But do not let us detain you if you are in a hurry."

He started, looked guilty, stammered something about baggage, said he would return in a moment, and rushed aimlessly away, his ears fiery.

"I'm all kinds of a fool," he muttered as he raced around the baggage room and then back to where he had left the two ladies. Mr. Guggenlocker had joined them, and they were preparing to depart. Miss Guggenlocker's face expressed pleasure at seeing him.

"We thought you would never return, so long were you gone," she cried gayly. He had been gone just two minutes by the watch. The old gentleman greeted him warmly, and Lorry asked them to what hotel they were going. On being informed that they expected to spend the day at the Ebbitt he volunteered to accompany them, saying that he intended to breakfast there. Quicker than a flash a glance unfathomable as it was brief passed between the three, not quickly enough, however, to escape his keen, watchful eyes, on the alert since the beginning of his acquaintance with them, in conjunction with his ears, to catch something that might satisfy in a measure his burning curiosity. What was the meaning of that glance? It half angered him, for in it he thought he could distinguish annoyance, apprehension, dismay or something equally disquieting. Before he could stifle his long frame and give vent to the dignified reconsideration that flew to his mind the young lady dispelled all pain and displeasure, sending him into raptures by saying:

"How good of you! We shall be so delighted to have you breakfast with us, Mr. Lorry, if it is convenient for you. You can talk to us of your wonderful city. I am sure we cannot trouble you much longer."

Some people eat heartily, even ravenously, yet nothing seems to "stick to their ribs". Others don't eat much, but assimilate all nutriment in the food and get fat. We have letters from people who say that

The "Style of a 'Dorothy Dodd'"

Let us assume that your shoes fit you. Now what next? What is most important? Unquestionably "Style!" Demand that a shoe shall possess "Style!" If it has style and little else you want it; if it has not style but everything else, you don't want it!

The "Style of a 'Dorothy Dodd'" is unique. It cannot be duplicated by any other maker, because the "Dorothy Dodd" is a totally different construction from any other ladies' shoe made. It holds the foot firmly at the waist (that's the instep), prevents the toes from slipping forward, and thus gives a correct poise in walking. Yet it makes the foot look nearly a whole size smaller. That's curious, and you won't believe it till you see it.

When Eye Trouble Begins!

Don't keep putting off from one day to the next what should be done at once. Have your eyes examined. A little abuse, a little strain, may mean much in years to come. Come in and talk the matter over. I charge you nothing for an examination, and I can be of service to you.

Pleasant Alternatives. An amusing story is told of a man condemned to death recently in France who was asked, according to custom, what he would prefer for his last meal. He chose mussels, which, though his favorite dish, always, he said, caused him a terrible indigestion. "This time, however," he added grimly, "they will not have the chance."

DECORATION DAY

Observance of it Not Very Evident in Paducah.

Banks and Postoffice Closed and Many People Leave on Boats.

Today is decoration day but no one except the colored people seem to be turning out. There were two excursions run to Moon City this morning for the benefit of the colored people and both were liberally patronized. Services as usual will be held at Moon City by the colored people. Paducah does little towards keeping this day except in sending visitors to Moon City, as there are few soldiers' graves here. A few visitors left Wednesday on the Clyde for Shiloh, but they were principally from neighboring towns.

The Dick Fowler carried at least 500 down, having in tow a large barge well sheltered. Other boats also had good crowds.

In Paducah the banks and postoffice were closed, but there was apparently little effect on business caused by the holiday.

GIANT MAP.

SEVERAL ACRES TO CONTAIN THE UNITED STATES.

St. Louis, May 30.—On the southern slope of the hill that fronts the Philippine exhibit the department of agriculture is making a map of the United States to cover five and one-tenth acres of ground. Considerable work has already been done here by David A. Brodie, superintendent of the open air exhibit of the bureau of plant industry of the department of agriculture, who has been in St. Louis since early spring in charge of the map project. Mr. Brodie and his assistant are laboriously drawing on the ground the ragged coast line of the United States. Starting at Oregon he has already reached Pensacola, Fla., and before the week is ended he probably will have finished the coast line. Then will come the drawing of the dividing lines of the states.

The entire five acres has been underlaid with wooden drains to carry off the surplus water. Products grown by each state will be exhibited on the map.

Claims to Have the Biggest Mills. So far as statistics in regard to cotton manufacturing plants have been published, Manchester people have the satisfaction of knowing that the largest cotton mill building in the world is that recently built by the Manchester Print Works and covering with its two wings a remarkable area. Statistics, too, show that this big No. 11 mill of the Amoskeag Manufacturing company, on the west side of the river, is the largest mill exclusively devoted to cotton cloth manufacturing in the world. That is, no portion of the No. 11 mill is used for storehouse purposes; it is entirely devoted to the making of cloth.—Manchester (N. H.) Union.

Correct Summer Clothing

The Kind That Won't Lose Shape

Did you ever notice how quick thin clothing loses its shape? It's because it is not made right. We overcome that fault in our Correct Summer Clothing—we've had it made a new way. The coats have a full shoulder, with hair-cloth stiffening down the front, that keeps them from breaking or losing shape. The pants have cuff bottoms, concealed buttons and felt straps, the cloth is thoroughly shrunk which overcomes bagging at the knee. There's no clothing like it for fit and style in Paducah. We show the new Irish Donegal Cloths, Cheviots and Home-spuns in coats and pants for men and young men
